

German Patent and Trade Mark Office (DPMA) opts for intergator Enterprise Search interface projects GmbH has been awarded the project contract for the provision of an enterprise search product

DRESDEN, SAXONY, GERMANY, May 4, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- As a result of an EU-wide tender for the deployment of an enterprise search product the German Patent and Trade Mark Office has announced interface projects GmbH from Dresden to realize the project. With the introduction of an enterprise search solution the German Patent and Trade Mark Office meets up to the challenges arising from growing numbers of patent applications on national and international levels and thus increasing requirements in processing IP procedures. In the tender procedure DPMA had defined its explicit performance criteria and specific research requirements for deploying a standard enterprise search. With the appointment of interface projects GmbH the choice was made for a vendor with enterprise search as its strategic core product.
