

Drive Down Memory Lane

Executive Auto Shippers to Host Alzheimer's Fundraiser in Des Moines

DES MOINES, IOWA, US, August 12, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Memories are a precious thing, and heartbreaking to lose. Those who are living with Alzheimer's understand this more than most.

"A lot of good memories can be associated with a car, especially classics," says Matt Van Gelder, CEO of Executive Auto Shippers. That's why EAS decided to host a fundraiser for the Alzheimer's Association in the form of a car show. "We felt a car show was a very relatable way for us to promote the Alzheimer's Association," Van Gelder commented.

The event is considerably called Drive Down Memory Lane. It will be held Sunday, September 18th at Principal Park. Van Gelder mentioned that besides a few of the local food trucks, the other vendors will include family activities, chair massages, and various goods. It's free to the public, and will run from 12pm to 4pm. People interested in showing their vehicle can contact the event organizer, Kristi Kenyon, at kristi@executiveautoshippers.com.

All proceeds will be donated to the organization. "We aren't looking to make a profit but simply help a great organization," Van Gelder stated, "with the help of our vendors and sponsor, MyKlassic.com, we're hoping to put on a really great show for both spectators and participants."

"The Alzheimer's Association is excited to be working with Executive Auto

Shippers," expressed Danielle Etter, Development and Communications Specialist with the Alzheimer's Association - Greater Iowa Chapter, "We are extremely grateful for local businesses like

Executive
auto shippers LLC

Auto Transport Professionals

Executive who look for creative ways to support the Alzheimer's Association.”
