

Introducing The Rajasinghe Vascular Research and Education Foundation in Collier County, Florida

The Rajasinghe Vascular Research And Education Foundation, Inc. aims to assist underserved youth in Collier County, Florida, to pursue careers in medicine.

NAPLES, FLORIDA, USA, August 17, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The underserve youth in Collier County, Florida, who want to pursue careers in science and medicine, now will have the support of the Rajasinghe Vascular Research And Education Foundation, Inc.

"To maximize our impact on current efforts, the foundation may seek to collaborate with other non-profit organizations focused on educational and charitable purposes," says Dr. Hiranya Rajasinghe, its founder.

At times, per the discretion of the board of directors, the foundation may provide internships or volunteer opportunities which shall provide opportunities for involvement in said activities and programs in order to have a greater impact for change.

Scholarships

"Currently the first scholarship is at the Duke University School of Medicine. It is essentially a need based scholarship. So one would have to have received an acceptance and then apply for scholarship aid. There is preferential treatment given to applicants from Florida and specifically the County of Naples with disadvantaged backgrounds," says Dr. Rajasinghe.
