

One-Piece Toilets Spark Homeowner Interest

PERRYSVILLE, OHIO, USA, August 18, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Sleek designs, easy-to-clean exteriors and small-space-friendly features are just three reasons why today's homeowners are becoming more interested in one-piece toilets.

"Two-piece toilets definitely dominate the market, but there's growing awareness of one-piece toilets," says Adriana Miller, product manager for Mansfield Plumbing. "For homeowners with a small bathroom a one-piece toilet can be an advantage. And, you don't sacrifice style with a one-piece toilet. Because the tank and toilet bowl are molded as one piece, there's almost a sleek, modern aspect to the style of many one-piece toilets."

According to Miller, the seamless transition between the base and the tank has another advantage: easy cleaning. "There are no nooks or joint areas where dirt can hide on a one-piece toilet," says Miller. "This makes exterior cleaning quicker and easier for homeowners. Another advantage is that installation generally goes faster for a one-piece toilet, since a plumber does not have to maneuver and secure the toilet bowl and then do the same for the toilet tank."

Mansfield Plumbing offers one-piece toilets in the Aegean™ style featuring an elongated front toilet bowl and a color-match SmartClose™ toilet seat. The Aegean model 705NS features a 1.6Gpf/6.0 lpf low water consumption while the Aegean™ ADA model 708 has 1.28 Gpf /4.86 lpf low water consumption. The Aegean ADA also has a 16-5/8 inches high SmartHeight™ bowl for easy access and maximum comfort.

"These one-piece toilets include high-performance MagnaFlush™ flushing technology and a two-inch glazed trapway," says Miller. "The toilets feature a three-inch flush valve and pilot-operated anti-siphon fill valve.

"A side-mount, chrome-plated metal trip lever handle complements the sleek design of the toilet. And, the toilet comes in white, biscuit and bone to accent any bathroom setting."
