

Top 5 Wedding Tips for Mums & Dads

Mother or father of the Bride & Groom, whatever role you play in the wedding of your child, you want to ensure you're doing what's best for them.

LA, CA - CALIFORNIA, USA, August 22, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Aotearoa Beauty offers 5 Tips to help the mums and dads make the most of this special day.

1. Keep the children calm. It's possible your daughter or son is having a last minute panic attack, so it's your job to keep them calm. Grab a wine or beer and sit down with them for a 5-minute chat. They'll appreciate it.

2. Look great. Remember you're going to be in a LOT of photos so you want to look your best. This doesn't just mean putting on a suit and running your fingers through your hair. Shave or trim any body parts that might be visible in public (including your nose hair) and make use of a pimple popper \(blackhead remover kit\) in preparation for those close up shots. There's nothing wrong with taking pride in your appearance, particularly for photos which will last for generations.

3. Dress for the occasion. If you're not the one walking your daughter down the aisle, it doesn't mean you shouldn't dress smart. Follow the formality of the wedding style, don't wear clashing colours (and of course, no white!), and dress for the weather.

4. Spend time with each other: bride's parents and the groom's parents should spend time together. If you aren't already close, this is the opportunity to get to know each other more. You'll likely be spending a lot of time together in future, so get off on the right foot.

5. Take a back seat. Remember, this is their day: so don't try to take control. Just sit back and enjoy the view.
