According to the report, the escalating prices of petrol and its inadequate availability has created the new opportunity for biodiesel in the global market. Biodiesel is one of those standard diesel which enhance the performance of motor's engines as well as very beneficial for the environment. It is one of the major substitute of petroleum diesel. The major role of biodiesel is not to replace petroleum diesel but to help in creating a balanced energy. Since few years, the demand for biodiesel has growth very much due to these factors. Even though, its demand in the application segment such as marine, railway, automotive, aircraft, generators and others has grown. But on the other hand, the continuously changing in prices of raw materials is creating hurdles in overall growth.

The study was conducted using an objective combination of primary and secondary information including inputs from key participants in the industry. The report contains a comprehensive market and vendor landscape in addition to a SWOT analysis of the key vendors. For further information on this report.
