

Howe to Senator Brown and Subcommittee on Social Security, Pensions, and Family Policy: Please Listen to Federal Crime

SubscriberWise founder and FICO Pro David Howe continues crusade to protect children with help of lawmakers and through recorded audio of child identity theft

WASHINGTON, D.C., U.S.A., August 26, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ --

SubscriberWise®, the leading provider of analytics driven subscriber decision management technology and the nation's largest issuing consumer reporting agency for the communications industry, announced today that global Credit Czar and SubscriberWise founder David Howe followed the directive of Senator Sherrod Brown's office and scheduled a request for a meeting. Howe has been working relentlessly to protect children for many years.

Global Credit Czar and Child Protector David Howe

“I submitted a formal request for a meeting with Senator Sherrod Brown as instructed by staff member Brad Deane,” confirmed David Howe, SubscriberWise founder and national child protector. “Today, and on behalf of the hundreds and hundreds of victim children I’ve protected during the past decade across this nation, I respectfully - and publicly - request a formal meeting with Senator Brown and the Subcommittee. It’s time the Senators hear the truth about this crime. More importantly, it’s time for the Senators to learn the solution.”

I know you agree, Senator Brown, that arresting moms and dads and grandparents is not the answer.”

“Senator Brown, I urge you and the Subcommittee members to listen to the federal crime including the final resolution: <https://soundcloud.com/user-370781554/2015-11-17-grandmother-granddaughter>

“The audio of this crime is a mere sample of the child identity theft cases I’ve been involved in. It happens with far greater frequency than you and your Senate colleagues ever imagined. And after you hear the audio, I’m confident you’ll understand why I choose not to involve the Attorney General and law enforcement in the vast majority of these cases.

"I know you agree, Senator Brown, that arresting moms and dads and grandparents is not the answer. I know you also agree that the criminal justice system would simply add to the child's suffering. And that's one of the reasons children suffer in silence. Rather than punishment, a technology solution combined with education is the right path forward.

"In fact, it's the only path forward," professed Howe.

"Please trust me, Senator Brown. I've been protecting children for as long as you've been a Senator. It's time to solve the problem and I know the solution," Credit Czar Howe concluded.
