

UN's Ban Ki Moon urged to listen to Northern Provincial Council leaders & not to Colombo based MP's: Tamils for Obama

NEW YORK, USA, August 29, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ --

Tamils for Obama today urged UN secretary General Ban Ki Moon to meet and listen to Northern Provincial Council leaders and not from Colombo based Tamil Members of Parliament.

If you want to get the true picture of what is happening for Tamil and their fears and anxiety can only be found through listening to Northern Provincial Council leader, who live among the victims and understand the pain and suffering of those who have lost thousands from the community and face rape, abductions by the Sri Lankan Security forces.

But the Colombo based leaders have no clue about the pain and suffering of Tamils and does not understand reality on the ground.

In addition, we also want to bring to your attention the "reconciliation" between communities. The mere fact that government is creating sham offices to find the missing, keeping large number of military and occupying Tamil lands all are testimony to government's insincerity towards reconciliation, said Tamils for Obama.

The situation for Tamils have not improved since the war and families call for justice is being dragged by the current government under different pretexts and giving only lip service to the victims.
