

Nexcopy Adds 128GB Drives For USB Copy Protection

Nexcopy Inc. Adds Support For USB Copy Protection of 128GB Flash Drives

LAKE FOREST, CA - CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, September 28, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Nexcopy Inc., a leading manufacturer of USB duplicators and printers, adds support for larger files and drive sizes on their Copy Protection software, CopySecure. Fewer restrictions on data size translates to higher quality videos and images being usable in CopySecure content. The current features of the CopySecure software include:

- File Protection Against Unwanted Copying

Working files cannot be copied off the drive. The content can be viewed, but it cannot be copied or shared.

- Protection Against Deletion

Data and files cannot be deleted off the drive or formatted off the drive. All content is locked at the controller level.

- Print Security

Files cannot be printed. Restricts printing of PDF files, html files, text files and more. This is a feature of all Nexcopy's encrypted drives and is still possible even on copy protected drives.

- Cannot Copy & Paste

Users cannot select content from from one document and copy-paste it to another. Ideal for blocking a "select all" copy and paste from with in a PDF.

- Block Screen Grabs

Copy Secure technology blocks screen grabs on Mac computers and print screens on Windows computers. This includes operating system items such as Snipping Tool, as well as Third-Party software like Snagit.

- Time Expiration

Expire files at a specific date and time. Ideal for subscription based applications or school courses.

"Updating based on what our customers need is an excellent way to polish a product", says Cyrus Riahi, Marketing Manager at Nexcopy. "More space means higher quality images, better, videos, and even an entire site can be stored on a drive and encrypted for safe use. It brings a lot of users peace of mind to know their content can't be thrown on the web for anyone and everyone to download, and that's really the goal of CopySecure."

Nexcopy offers free data loading for smaller jobs. The USB200PRO flash duplicator is available for larger production runs. Contact us for more details.
