Love, success, change, compromise, respect, progress; As human beings, we're all born with the same desire to be loved and to succeed at something we truly enjoy. While the cards may not always fall into place just how we'd like, we are still capable of achieving everything we set out for. To some, seeking the help of professionals like therapists or coaches may seem like a weak maneuver. "I don't need this, I don't have to change my ways," they say. But all of those brave enough to take that step will declare...

Change is good. Change starts with identifying one's unique personality strengths. Then setting personal and professional goals. Then using these unique personality strengths to accomplish one's goals. Here is where Dr. Mary Anne Knolle comes in.

Incorporating an extremely impressive educational and professional background, Dr. Knolle has been practicing family and marriage therapy along with business coaching for 27 years. Her educational achievements consist of 4 university degrees including a Masters in Communication and a Ph.D. in Psychology.

How does Dr. Knolle help clients move their love relationship and career achievement closer to where they want it to be?

This move towards progress between Dr. Knolle and her clients starts with the utilization of her Personality Strengths Assessment (PSA) ©. They take objective tests on her website that tell them their 1) coping strategies, 2) temperament strengths, and 3) values – their personality strengths. This is their PSA©.

How is the PSA© unique?

Like standardized tests, these tests tell clients their exact place. For instance they are higher than 95% of us in Achievement. Higher than 90% of us in Economic Value... and higher than 85% of us in Nurturance.

Now they have clarity. With clarity they can set a goal and use their personality strengths (their PSA©) to achieve them.

We all face Change – it is the one great constant in our lives. We graduate. Get a job. Have a work change. Select a life partner. Have children. Have a relationship change. Face a new challenge. Come to a fork in the road. Get an opportunity we never thought we would have.

Would you like to know your personality strengths – so you can use them to make a change in your life?

The magnificent scope of her work is superlative. Whether it's personal issues with relationships, love, marriage and divorce or professional dilemmas from choosing the right college, the right job, negotiating salary, all the way to planning for retirement, it's truly amazing to see the results-driven process behind Dr. Knolle's work.

What motivates Dr. Knolle? "I love seeing objective tests show people what their God-given personality strengths are. Then they set a goal and reach it - USING their strengths.

For example, if my client experiences a setback, he or she is really discouraged. Then they SEE from an objective test that they are higher than 95% of us in Achievement... and higher than 90% of us in Economic Value... and higher than 85% of us in Nurturance.

NOW they have clarity. This clarity empowers them to have the confidence to set a goal. And the assurance to believe that they can achieve it – using their unique strengths. My client says, "WOW! I can do this! And here's HOW I will do it!"

Dr. Knolle looks forward to telling us her clients' stories – and their successes.
