Description

Wiseguyreports.Com Adds "Industrial Automation Software -Market Demand, Growth, Opportunities and analysis of Top Key Player Forecast to 2021" To Its Research Database

Industrial automation software such as SCADA and MES are migrating from computers to mobile devices. Authorized operators can remotely access data using a variety of devices such as tablets and smartphones. These devices are used as portable HMIs to monitor remote equipment and enable field operators to assess the current condition of a process or equipment quickly without being tied to a workstation. Technologies embedded in smartphones, such as Bluetooth Low Energy (BLE) beacons, near-field communication (NFC), and Global Positioning System (GPS), have enabled the integration of SCADA with smartphones.

The analysts forecast the global industrial automation software market to grow at a CAGR of 6.39% during the period 2016-2020.

Covered in this report

The report covers the present scenario and the growth prospects of the global industrial automation software market for 2016-2020. To calculate the market size, the report considers the revenue generated from sales and aftermarket services of MES, distributed control system (DCS), supervisory control and data acquisition (SCADA), programmable logic controller (PLC), and human machine interface (HMI) in end-user industries.

The market is divided into the following segments based on geography:
• Americas
• APAC
• EMEA

The report, Global Industrial Automation Software Market 2016-2020, has been prepared based on an in-depth market analysis with inputs from industry experts. The report covers the market landscape and its growth prospects over the coming years. The report also includes a discussion of the key vendors operating in this market.

Key vendors

• Rockwell Automation
• Emerson Electric
• Schneider Electric
• Siemens
