

ImCredentialed Releases a New Way to Vet Your Community

The ImCredentialed Community addresses safety and security through tracked and managed background checks, licenses, training, immunizations and policies.

HOUSTON, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, September 29, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ImCredentialed, announces the launch of a new way to ensure you have the right people connected to your network.

ImCredentialed is a secure database for people to electronically manage their personal credentials and certifications, or those of their employees. From babysitters to drivers, employees to contractors, it is a solution for any person or company needing to ensure, to their customers, that they are properly certified and trained for their position. And now, a new feature allows individuals to connect with multiple organizations through one account.

A standard ImCredentialed account includes a criminal background check (including national felony search, terrorist watch list check, sex offender search and government watch list), driver's license and photo verification. However, an individual can add additional credentials to be verified and even take training from the ImCredentialed training library. Once all of an individual's credentials have been verified, they can share their ImCredentialed certificate with anyone. This shows the status and expiration of each credential. They can also connect to other organizations that can then view their ImCredentialed account.

"We want to make it easy for people to track and share their credentials, without having to waste time and money having the same information verified multiple times." Says President Melissa Sciba. "So many of us have to go through a background check for our job, our volunteer organizations or churches. With an ImCredentialed account, all of that information can be tracked and stored electronically and shared securely."

Companies can sign up at no cost and customize their organizations specific requirements. Once credentials have been set, assign them to any individual within the ImCredentialed network. With a company account, you can add your employees and track their status. Through ImCredentialed, an organization can add company specific trainings, policies and much more.

"Our mission has always been to help create a safe environment for our communities and families by empowering people to make the right decisions about who they do business with. With our ability to connect people to different organizations, we truly believe that we can expand our network and help get everyone in the ImCredentialed community.”

About ImCredentialed

Imcredentialed is a community software app that keeps your safety and security in mind. For your family, friends and coworkers. ImCredentialed's goal is to establish a cost effective way to manage and track the compliance and competence of the people you associate with daily. One account fits all and can be used for any application without the need to rerun checks and policies. Training, immunizations, policies, procedures, license verification, CDL endorsements, employment verification, and national watchlists such as terrorist watch lists are just a few examples of the power of the ImCredentialed system. Take the information and compile reporting analytics and benchmarks. Know where your security and safety issues are before they are a problem. For more information, please visit ImCredentialed.com.
