With Locatible www.locatible.com, highly accurate performance, utilization, and location data are available on user-friendly dashboards. All lift trucks, inventory, and trailers in the yard are located with pinpoint accuracy and in real-time. Inventory is stored with 100% accuracy.

Lift trucks are enabled with smart technology so they know what they are carrying, where they are going, what the optimal route is to get there. If drivers make an incorrect pick or drop, they are alerted immediately. Information is transmitted in real-time and drivers can focus on optimal operations.

“We are talking to warehousing market leaders in North America, setting up pilot installations with some of them in order to showcase how our tracking solution can bring warehousing to reach the next generation in operational excellence.”, says Rónán O’Coighlinn, the CEO of Locatible.
