

Cowork.cr opens its doors to the public.

Costa Rica's first coworking office was opened on September 05.

LA SABANA, SAN JOSE, COSTA RICA, October 7, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- San Jose has joined New York, London, Paris and many other cities around the world that currently offer entrepreneurs, small business, freelancers, startups and independent professionals of all kinds, a work space where they can work in their projects and ideas based on principles like openness, collaboration and community building.

Located in the heart of San Jose, just 50 meters south of the Contraloría General de La República, in south Sabana, our offices are easy to get to by either by train, bus or even bicycle from any point of the city.

"The Central Valley has always been filled with startups, entrepreneurs and talented visionaries in need of a place where they can work in their ideas in the most productive and constructive way" said Rosalyn F. de la O, founder of Cowork.cr. "We will provide them not just a place to work, but a community of like-minded individuals who are passionate about what they do."

Services include: high speed internet, electricity, printing, courier, receptionist, beverages, lockers and security, all that in an inspiring shared office space that was designed, furnished and equipped to enhance productivity and collaboration.

Have fun, make friends and be productive at the same time in a space that will remind you the colorful fauna of Costa Rica while having a great view of the city.
