Danang is a bridge of economic, cultural, political, and social life in the middle and Central Highlands of Vietnam. Danang city has an international airport with many direct flights, a deep sea port, and the national North-South railway system of Vietnam.

Danang offers amazingly beautiful destinations, especially Danang beach. Visitors may admire the natural wonders in Ba Na Hills, do some jungle exploring in Son Tra Peninsula, pray at Linh Ung Pagoda with Vietnam's highest Bodhisattva Statue at 67 meters, and visit the Museum of Cham Sculpture, where the antique statues of Cham culture are preserved and on exhibit.

Nestled in the hills of the famous Son Tra Peninsula, just a short drive from three UNESCO World Heritage sites, the truly iconic, 200-bedroom luxury Danang resort, designed by Bill Bensley, features exclusive beachfront villas with private pools. Guests have the opportunity to savor fine cuisine at La Maison 1888 by a three-Michelin-starred Chef, Pierre Gagnaire; relax in exquisite suites overlooking panoramic ocean views; unwind at the award-winning HARNN heritage spa; and enjoy signature cocktails at the beachside bar.
