

Walmart Wellness Day Features Free Health Screenings

Sneakz Organic is proud to have been chosen to be among the healthy products available at 300 Walmart stores across 20 states

JUPITER, FLORIDA , UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, October 15, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Families likely already value the effects of practicing wellness, especially if they have little ones.

But do they really know how they're doing? A check-up can give families the peace of mind of knowing that they're on the right track to a healthy future or help spark positive changes in their health.

Walmart is making it easy for you to take charge of families' health by hosting Walmart Wellness Day, the largest health-screening event in the nation. The event, which was called "America's Biggest Health Fair" last year, will take place from noon-4 p.m. local time on Saturday, Oct. 15 at Walmart stores nationwide.

Walmart will give free blood glucose and blood pressure tests, vision screenings (only at stores with vision centers), product samples and information on health care insurance. Additionally, Walmart's licensed pharmacists will offer low-cost immunizations (most insurances accepted) in all Walmart pharmacies in the US.

No appointments are necessary, but it's important to note that services are on a first-come, first-served basis. For more information, visit Walmart.com/healthcare.

Walmart has conducted thousands of health screenings over the past several years, some of which may have had lifesaving results. According to a Walmart pharmacy manager in Everett, Penn., one patient's readings during last year's wellness event "were so alarming that she went immediately to the emergency room where she was treated for a hypertensive emergency."

In addition to operating its own pharmacies, vision centers and Care Clinics, Walmart also helps its customers to live healthier lives by providing a comprehensive assortment of preventative and wellness

We are thrilled to have the opportunity to bring Sneakz to Walmart stores and offer shoppers a fun and easy solution for feeding little ones veggies.
