

Black Public Relations Society-New York Launches 2016-2017 Membership Drive

BPRS-NY looks forward to continuing to be a pillar with the Urban Network in the Tri-State area fulfilling its mission of creating opportunities minorities.

MANHATTAN, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, October 19, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- New York, New York - The Black Public Relations Society-New York (BPRS-NY) announced the launching of its 2016-2017 membership drive. BPRS-NY is a 501c3 Non-for-Profit organization in New York State.

Membership - Black Public Relations Society applicants must be engaged in a full-time paid professional career of public relations. This should include, but is not limited to, working for either private or public sectors in the following areas: media relations, public affairs, community affairs, publicity, public information, special events management and development, lobbying, and internal, employee and organizations communications. Also, professional membership is available to those engaged in the teaching or administering of public relations courses at an accredited college or university.

Student applicant must be currently enrolled in a public relations/communications program at an accredited college or university.

BPRS-NY was recently featured on Huffington Post as one of three non-for-profits in NY State Making a Difference

<http://www.huffingtonpost.com/entry/three-non-for-profits...> and on Huffington Post story Black Newspapers And Communication Professionals Critical to Chronicling Current History of African Americans <http://www.huffingtonpost.com/phil-andrews/black-newspape...?>

BPRS-NY looks forward to continuing to be a pillar with the Urban Network in the Tri-State area fulfilling its mission of creating opportunities for multi-cultural professionals in the communication area. Our goal is to continue to advocate for Black Professional in Public Relations, Corporate Communication, Investor Relations, Government Affairs, Community Relations, and other related fields.

"We look forward to building on the legacy of the founding fathers of BPRS-NY has created since its inception in 1989. We would like to give special acknowledgement to the Immediate Past President of BPRS-NY Kisha Barton; for we will be building on the mission, values, and goals they have entrusted to us in passing the torch of leadership to our newly established administration. We look forward to forming partnership with affiliate organizations, corporations and PR firms dedicated to diversity, and colleges and universities in New York". Phil Andrews, President BPRS-NY We look forward to hosting a variety of informative panels, workshop, and events geared to opening the doors of access to more Black PR Professionals in the Public Relations Industry.

To join Black Public Relations Society-New York or to be placed on our email list for upcoming events you may email us at bpsny@gmail.com

Phillip Andrews
Black Public Relations Society-New York
3474757158
email us here

---

This press release can be viewed online at: <http://www.einpresswire.com>

Disclaimer: If you have any questions regarding information in this press release please contact the company listed in the press release. Please do not contact EIN Presswire. We will be unable to assist you with your inquiry. EIN Presswire disclaims any content contained in these releases.

© 1995-2016 IPD Group, Inc. All Right Reserved.