

Level Office purchases Downtown Pittsburgh building

PITTSBURGH, PA, UNITED STATES, October 18, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Workspace provider Level Office is expanding into Pennsylvania with the purchase of the 606 Liberty Ave. building in Downtown Pittsburgh. The Chicago-based company acquired the seven-floor building on October 17 and plans to begin renovating the building. Pre-leasing is already underway for private offices and coworking memberships.

"Small businesses and entrepreneurs in Pittsburgh are experiencing fantastic growth, so we're thrilled to offer them workspace that is flexible and budget-friendly, all within a historic building," said Bill Bennett, Founder of Level Office.

Plans for the building include private offices and communal lounge areas with amenities such as an espresso bar, 100 MBPS fiber internet, local beer on tap, and on-site administrative support. With pricing of $199 a month for coworking memberships and starting at $500 for private offices, Level Office seeks to provide small businesses and entrepreneurs with high-caliber amenities that are typically only available to large companies.

Built in 1900, the 48,400-square-foot building features oversized bronzed aluminum windows, vaulted ceilings, and a white terracotta exterior. By offering state-of-the-art amenities and technology in historic structures, Level Office honors the historic elements of buildings while outfitting them with cutting-edge technology and offering inspiring workspace for its members.
