

ThinkMarkets expands access to liquidity through VertexFX Cloud

ThinkMarkets, a global multi-asset brokerage, have collaborated with VertexFX Cloud to offer wider access to ThinkMarkets' liquidity platform.

LONDON, WEST MIDLANDS, UNITED KINGDOM, October 24, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ --

"We carefully select our partners and only work with those who can add real value to our business. ThinkMarkets have seen the advantages of a secure cloud-based trading platform".

Akram Majed, CEO of Hybrid Solutions

ThinkMarkets, a global multi-asset brokerage, have collaborated with VertexFX Cloud, the award-winning trading platform developed by Hybrid Solutions, to offer wider access to ThinkMarkets' liquidity platform. The move comes as part of ThinkMarkets' drive to become an agnostic platform liquidity provider.

The agreement allows ThinkMarkets to offer traders VertexFX Cloud, a fully functional cloud-based trading platform on a lease agreement, so avoiding expensive setup fees as well as the ability to securely manage the platform from anywhere and on any device.

ThinkMarkets offers a full-suite solution with deep multi-asset liquidity, multiple trading platforms, and technologies for institutional clients. As a result, the partnership will increase ThinkMarkets' geographical spread and capabilities, in order to provide liquidity to a wider spread of international asset managers, hedge funds, and investment houses by opening the opportunity for on-boarding investors using VertexFX Technology.

Nauman Anees, CEO & Co-founder said: "By co-locating our trading servers with our institutional liquidity providers, traders benefit from high-speed execution on their orders. We're delighted to offer VertexFX Cloud to expand our services further afield to brokers and traders alike.

"Customer satisfaction is at the forefront of our culture and collaborating with VertexFX Cloud demonstrates our dedication to achieve client excellence and our focus to ultimately benefit the end user."

Akram Majed, CEO of Hybrid Solutions comments: "We carefully select our partners and only work with those who can add real value to our business. ThinkMarkets have seen the advantages of a secure cloud-based trading platform, which will open up a new customer base for their business.

"Both brokers and traders alike are able to access their account and perform all functions just as if the platform was on its standard server licensed setup. The VertexFX cloud platform setup offers more business stability through its functionality, full integrity, and cost efficiency. This agreement will create an opportunity for them to benefit from our reputable services."
