

Running Belt Max Brand Running Belt has Many Amazing Uses— Some of These Will Surprise You

The many uses of the popular running belt is becoming a phenomenon, and some of the industries using it was a total surprise to the companies founder.

ASHEBORO, NORTH CAROLINA, UNITED STATES, October 21, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- It has been 10 months since the release of the Running Belt Max waist pack on Amazon.com, and to say that this pocketed waist belt has beat the odds versus the very large number of competitors would be an understatement.

There are more than 25,000 search results for “running belt” on Amazon.com, and the Running Belt Max is consistently in the top 50 best-selling running belts. It sells better than Nike, Adidas, and many other major brands— even better than running belts that have been on Amazon.com for several years.

One of the reasons of their big success, is other people and industries are using the running belt, not just runners and people who are into fitness. Dave Chandler, the founder of Running Belt Max, discovered that people are using the belt to take on shopping trips, to theme parks and entertainment venues, to sporting events, for walking their dog, and other leisurely tasks. Chandler expanded his marketing into these niches a few months after release.

We asked Chandler what was the most surprising uses for his running belt.

“We’ve had many people tell us the

The Running Belt Max is very versatile

Running Belt Max is perfect for wait staff and for nurses. The pouches are designed to hold credit cards, money, receipts, paperwork, badges and ID's, smart phones (including the iPhone 6 & 7 Plus) and even some nursing instruments. We have a large following of people who use the Running Belt Max for who it was designed for – for runners and for people who are into fitness – but the number of people who love our belt for other purposes took us by surprise”, Chandler said.

The Running Belt Max does indeed have broad appeal, and more than 600 positive reviews and a 4.5 Star rating on Amazon proves this. People have posted scores of photos as well as videos of people using their running waist pack. Several bloggers and fitness websites are now promoting the running and multi-use belt.

Chandler says he will continue to produce his running belt through 2017 and he has plans to introduce a variety of zipper colors. Currently it's available with a blue and silver zipper that is highly light-reflective for safer nighttime activities, and next year customers will see a black and silver reflective zipper and possibly a lime green/silver version.

The Running Belt Max is currently available on Amazon.com. Chandler says to order early for the holidays, as stock may be exhausted before Christmas. To purchase the running belt
