

New Technology Revolutionises Relationships Between Executive Search Firms and Their Clients

Increasingly, buyers of executive search services are choosing to partner with Search firms offering realtime progress information on candidates and projects.

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, October 25, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Dillistone Systems, the provider of the market leading FileFinder Anywhere suite of Executive Search applications has announced the launch of the latest generation of the FileFinder Client Portal.

The Portal allows Executive Search firms to publish assignment related information on a secure website. This website is then available to the end client who can review and provide feedback on searches as and when they wish to.

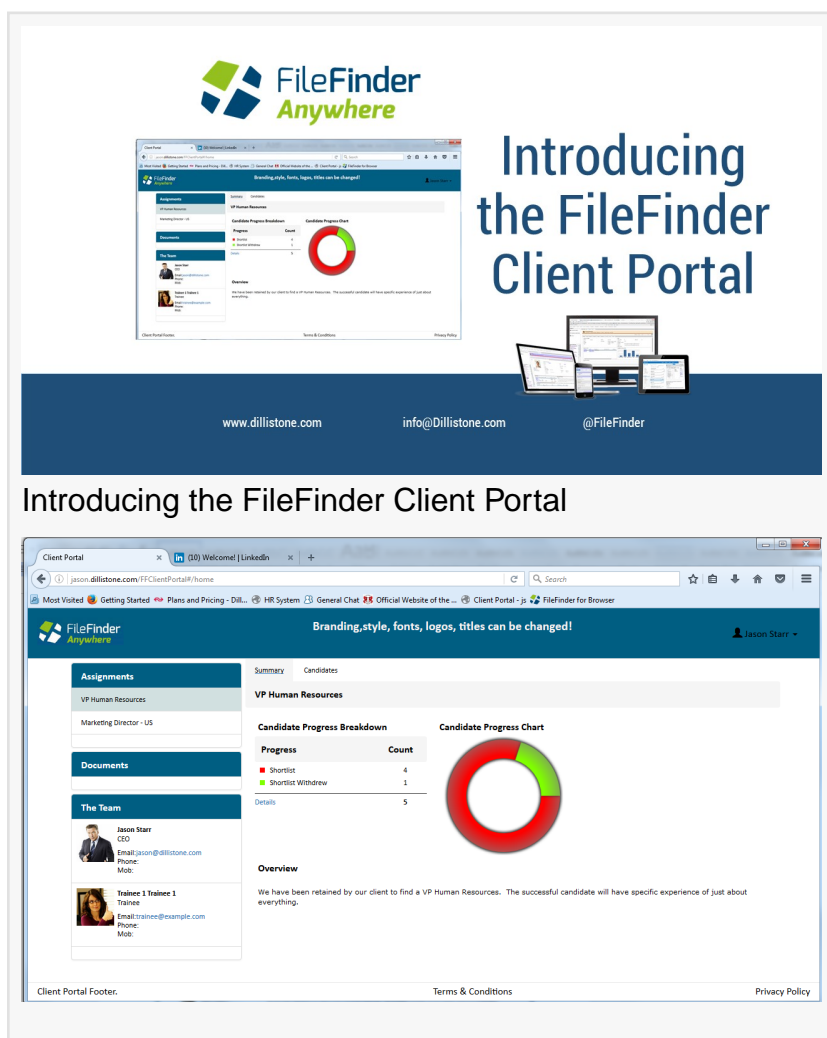

“We continue to develop functionality that allows Executive Search firms to be more productive. Our first Client Portal was launched back in 2003 – we were the first supplier to offer such an App – but we’ve moved on a long way since then. The latest generation of our portal is unique in that it allows our clients a huge amount of control over the end user experience – and can manage it all through our web-based tools,” explained Jason Starr, Managing Director of Dillistone Systems.

Dillistone Systems has seen a dramatic increase in business in 2016 and Jason Starr believes it is down to the company’s commitment to product development:

“Our new business order book is significantly ahead of what we brought in in the whole of 2015. I put this down to the launch of our new FileFinder Anywhere App, which offered the first and, to date, only browser-based product from a mainstream supplier to the Executive Search industry. We are now in a position where we are able to accelerate our development of tools such as the FileFinder Client Portal – and that has to be good news for our firm and our clients.”
