

Asheville Physician to Host Training Workshop for Out-of-Town Medical Practitioners

ASHEVILLE, NC, UNITED STATES, October 26, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Local physician Dr. George Ibrahim of Biltmore Restorative Medicine & Aesthetics is hosting a procedural workshop for medical practitioners to learn about the administration and implementation of the Vampire® Procedures, O-Shot®, and the Priapus Shot®. This training will feature Dr. Charles Runels, the founder of these state of the art procedures, which were made famous when Kim Kardashian widely shared a video of her undergoing a treatment.

Dr. Ibrahim is Western North Carolina's only physician certified by the American Academy of Anti-Aging Medicine. He has been specifically trained in the use of bio-identical hormones, having passed both written and oral exams. A former Duke University Clinical Professor of Urology, Dr. Ibrahim has extensive experience as a teacher. He has been a successful provider of the Vampire® Procedures, O-

Shot, and Priapus Shot®. The two-day training on these procedures will begin on the morning of November 4th and will be held at the offices of Biltmore Restorative Medicine & Aesthetics at 1 Vanderbilt Park Dr., Suite 230.

This in-depth lesson of the science and method behind each procedure will be taught by two professionals who are experts in this field. The workshop will include educational demonstrations on live models. There will also be an educational component on how physicians offering these procedure can implement successful marketing strategies to grow their practices.

Find more information or register for this workshop here. There are only three remaining seats available in the workshop, so act fast to claim your spot!
