/EINPresswire.com/ -- ESI Roundtable, the only eDiscovery CLE organization

providing practical and engaging hands-on training for local legal communities, will bring its unique CLE Workshop format to the Atlanta office of Kilpatrick Townsend on the afternoon of Thursday, December 1st.

The Atlanta-metro legal community has been like a second home for ESIRT. We're so excited to bring ESIRT's workshops to Atlanta this year!

Melissa Rogozinski, Founder and President, ESIRT LLC

ESI Roundtable CLE Workshops* deliver practical education combined with “hands-on” skills training. ESIRT Workshops create a community where colleagues and service providers can learn from each other in a comfortable, pitch-free atmosphere. Participants are encouraged to dialogue with session leaders and contribute their comments and perspectives to the discussion.

“ESI Roundtable Workshops provide both effective practice tools and fresh ideas. Our Firm's attorneys always return from ESI Workshops with specific tips for eDiscovery issues in our existing cases,” states Harry J. Winograd, Principal, Bodker, Ramsey, Andrews, Winograd, Wildstein, P.C.

Since 2013, Atlanta legal professionals have been driving to Birmingham to attend ESI Roundtable's “Hands-On” Training Workshops so ESIRT is excited to announce Atlanta's first #HOT Workshop. A pre-workshop survey was issued to poll the Atlanta legal community on what topics were most appealing to their practice and Courts. The December 1st Agenda reflects the survey responses.

The CLE Workshop consists of two 90-minute sessions that combine content with practical skills training through role-playing activities. Sessions are presented by local practitioners – judges, attorneys, paralegals, litigation support – on behalf of ESI Roundtable. Local speakers create a sense of community among colleagues with whom participants can network and connect outside of the Workshops. Session topics Conducting the Meet & Confer and Identifying & Interviewing Custodians will be presented by select members of the distinguished ESI Roundtable Atlanta panel: Hon. Joseph Iannazzone, Julie Bracker, Will Bracker, Craig Cannon, Amy Catton, Alex Khoury, Tera Ladner, Ami Rodrigues, Howe Taing and Harry Winograd.

“The Atlanta-metro legal community has been like a second home for ESIRT. The diversity of firms, practice areas, legal professionals and cases have created a rich environment for exciting content and insightful dialogue at ESIRT CLEs,” says Melissa Rogozinski, Founder and President, ESIRT LLC. “We’re so excited to bring ESIRT’s workshops to Atlanta this year!”
