

Customer Service Increases with Happy Serve

It's Not Just About the Food!

DENVER, CO, UNITED STATES, November 5, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Denver, CO - Denver-based Happy Serve is currently in talks with several major restaurant chains for placement of their table top serving system. Reviews from around the country confirm that Happy Serve is the most time saving and customer friendly product in the restaurant industry.

Happy Serve's unique table serving system gives restaurant patrons a more enjoyable and relaxed dining experience, as it allows them the complete control over when they do or do not need service.

This simple, practical and affordable system allows restaurant staff to focus more on those customers who need immediate service and less on those who wish to remain undisturbed.

Happy Serve helps restaurant staff become more efficient servers, by allowing them more time to provide the best customer service available, especially during rush times.

A whopping 80% of all restaurant complaints are related to poor service, not inadequate food or restaurant ambiance. And 70% of Americans say they were willing to spend more money in restaurants that they believe provide excellent customer service. As surveys suggest, the most common and easiest way to lose customers is by failing to deliver quality customer service.

A happy customer undoubtedly leads to an increase in restaurant sales, loyal repeat business, positive word of mouth recommendations, and potential gratuity increases for hard working staff.
