This market research study presents a detailed segmentation of the global kaolin mining market by application (paper, ceramics, paints and coatings, rubber, fiberglass, and others) and by geography (APAC, North America, ROW, and Western Europe). The key vendors identified in the market are BASF, Imerys, KaMin, Quarzwerke, Sibelco, and Thiele Kaolin.

Overview of the kaolin mining market

The market research analysts have predicted the global kaolin mining market to grow at a moderate CAGR of nearly 4% during the forecast period.

The increasing demand from China is one of the key factors driving the growth of this market globally. China is the largest market for kaolin, and the analysts have envisaged the kaolin market in China to grow at a rapid pace in the predicted period. In China, besides the growing demand for kaolin from the ceramics industry, there is a huge demand for kaolin from the construction sector. The construction market in China is expected to experience rapid growth in the coming years which will aid in the growth of the kaolin mining market during the predicted period.

In this industry research report, the analysts have estimated factors like the recent shift toward high-quality ore mining to bolster the growth prospects of this market until the end of 2020. Since the quality of kaolin reserves in the mines of England and Georgia are declining, the extraction of high-quality kaolin ore will gradually shift to other locations. For instance, Brazil has many top-quality kaolin reserves, and might emerge as its largest producer during the forecast period. Moreover, Brazil has the second largest kaolin reserves in the world and accounts for 28% of the total global reserves. Therefore, with Brazil opening its reserves for high-quality ore mining, the kaolin mining market has a positive outlook over the forecast period.

Segmentation by application and analysis of the kaolin mining market

- Paper
- Ceramics
- Paints and coatings
- Rubber
- Fiberglass

During 2015, the paper industry dominated the kaolin mining market and accounted for almost 41% of the market share. However, the paper segment is projected to grow at the slowest pace as it is facing the challenges of digitalization, reducing paper use to a large extent. The kaolin mining market for paper is expected to reach close to 13 million metric tons by the end of 2020.

Geographical segmentation and analysis of the kaolin mining market

- APAC
- North America
- ROW
- Western Europe

In 2015, APAC dominated the kaolin mining market and accounted for nearly 38% of the market share. The kaolin market in APAC is expected to grow at a rapid pace owing to an augmented demand from emerging markets like China, India, Thailand, and Malaysia. The kaolin market in these countries is majorly driven by the heavy spending and increasing demand from the construction industry.

Competitive landscape and key vendors

The global kaolin mining market is consolidated with a few key providers in the market. However, with the entry of new players, the market share of leading vendors is decreasing. The competition is expected to intensify with the introduction of products with new features and technologies.
