NEW YORK CITY, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, November 16, 2016

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Doulagivers is the new, specialized area of non-medical healthcare for the elderly. Doulagivers is an internationally recognized leader in end of life trainings and care. Their certified End of Life Doulas are a global community working as an adjunct to Hospice and helping to fill in the hours of care and guidance for both patients and families at the end of life. Doulagivers is an organization with 3 main levels of training and services to help support both patients and families in this last precious phase of life. Doulagivers has gained notoriety through giving their Free/Donation Level 1 Community Caregiver Trainings both in person and online. Their global outreach initiative of bringing the needed skills on how to care for the elderly has been embraced all over the world. This training has empowered not only family members, but also community volunteers in the ability to care for each other. Bringing back the concept of community taking care of community.

As a thank you for your participation and continued support, we will be offering Holiday Specials for our online education courses and live trainings for the start of 2017!

Doulagivers™

The New Specialized Area of Non-Medical Health Care for the Elderly

Due to the overwhelming support they have been greeted with this year, Doulagivers is proud to announce that they will be hiring new staff and expanding their operations in 2017! Doulagivers has already opened their new Headquarters in the Upper East Side of Manhattan in NYC at the Doulagivers International End of Life Doula Training and Wellness Center.

In addition, Doulagivers will be forming a nonprofit entity to assure that everyone who wants or needs their training and resources can have access to them, as well as connecting patients and families in need of their Doula services with their trained and certified Doulas. They are currently working on launching a No Patient Left Behind Program, as well as expanding their Global Outreach Initiative through the Free Level 1 End of Life Doula and Community Training.

"Our company was founded on the premise of helping others and advocating for end of life patients. As we expand, we will be holding true to our roots and beliefs. This is an area of education that everyone should have, an area of care that everyone will need and we will continue to make sure that everyone is always included."

The following online courses are open for registration at a discounted price:

The Doulagivers Level 3 Certified End of Life Doula Training: consisting of Levels 1, 2 & 3 to provide all the knowledge you will need to guide a patient and family through their entire end of life journey from a terminal diagnosis all the way through until after a patient dies, as well as assisting the family with reentering life after loss.

The Doulagiver Care Consultant Training: Our Care Consultants are specially trained and certified professionals that will assist a person to do their Advance Directive by discussing what is important to them, explaining options and facilitating family meetings. This is a comprehensive course that will train you in end of life planning and Advance Directives. You will be thoroughly trained in how to properly evaluate the needs of a patient, advocate for their wishes and how to handle family relations during a very stressful and emotional time.

The Doulagivers Elder Care Doula Training: This course will train you to become a non-medical professional, specializing in how to care for elderly patients holistically (physically, emotionally and spiritually). Elder Care Doulas can care for the elderly as early as simply being companions, all the way through to support both the patient and their families until the time when an End of Life Doula is needed.

For more information regarding these courses and how to enroll, please email Doulagivers@gmail.com or visit www.doulagivers.com

Doulagivers is also announcing two live workshop dates for those who are in the New York City area and would like to have a live seminar to compliment the online course. These live seminars will be held at the Doulagivers International End of Life Doula Training and Wellness Center.
