Elizabeth Sanders says HorseOPeace.com soaps made with 100% Raw Goat Milk

WINSTON-SALEM, NC, USA, December 7, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- As wintry weather sweeps across America, HorseOPeace.com founder Elizabeth Sanders reported a growing demand for her company's full line of goat milk soaps made with 100% raw goat milk as people seek relief for dry and sensitive skin during winter.

Elizabeth said, "During winter it's important to use a moisturizing soap to protect and pamper skin as cold weather, seasonally low humidity and chilly winds take moisture from skin. At family-friendly prices, our HorseOPeace.com goat milk soaps are the most moisturizing soaps on the market and formulated to keep skin soft and healthy in any weather conditions."

She added, "During the Holiday Season of Christmas and Hanukah our Gift Sets and membership in the HorseOPeace.com Soap Club are popular gifts and a wonderful way to show a loved one or friend that you care."

HorseOPeace.com all-natural goat milk soaps made with 100% raw goat milk and natural Shea butter cream are popular favorites.

The healthy quality of HorseOPeace.com products was recently reported by iHeart Radio as Elizabeth discussed running a business while homeschooling her four sons, ages 1 to 5. She said with help of husband Nick, an IT executive, the Sanders have built a thriving family business from North Carolina and will soon move to a 22-acre site to accommodate the growth of the business.

Nick added, "The importance of HorseOPeace.com soap made with 100% raw goat milk, without the water competitors add, is that HorseOPeace.com soaps have the lustrous benefits of very high-end skincare products at family prices to protect everyone's skin and especially help conditions from dryness to eczema."

Raised in Wisconsin where she worked outdoors, Elizabeth said, "In wintry weather my fingers and hands would dry then chap and crack until I made my own goat milk soap, which healed them. I realized my soaps could help others. That was the genesis of what has made our family business, HorseOPeace.com. Today, our chemical-free goat milk soaps, Shea butter cream and lip balms bring relief to people with dry skin and other skin problems and protect the skin of all of our customers across the USA and worldwide."
