MONTREAL, CANADA, December 7, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- On December 6, speaker Martin Latulippe, inspirational leadership expert, author, and trainer will have the honour of being inducted into the Canadian Association of Professional Speakers (CAPS) Hall of Fame during the organization's annual convention this year in Edmonton. At 41, Mr. Latulippe will be its youngest inductee!

Martin Latulippe has acquired over 260,000 fans on his Facebook page, and thousands worldwide share his videos.

“Obviously, I am very touched by this appointment. It’s a tremendous recognition from my peers, who know better than anyone what it means to be a lecturer. I have the distinct impression of making a difference in people’s everyday life. I feel useful. I feel ‘in my zone’ ” explains Latulippe living in New Brunswick.

The CAPS Hall of Fame is comprised of individuals recognized for their excellence as professional speakers, and for their demonstrated dedication in teaching the profession. Members are selected by their peers in recognition of their outstanding contributions, longevity, success, ethical conduct, as well as their impact on their clients, the general public, and the profession.

Leading group of Canadian expert speakers, CAPS includes speakers and trainers.
