

One Stop Media Now Offers Blockchain and Chatbot Solutions to Australian Businesses

At One Stop Media, we are passionate about learning new technologies and can now Offer Our Clients the latest in Blockchain and Chatbot Solutions.

MELBOURNE, VICTORIA, AUSTRALIA, December 9, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- At One Stop Media, we are proud to announce we are now offering our clients technological solutions – Blockchain architecture and Chatbot app developments!

As a leading digital company delivering advanced web development to Melbourne businesses, we now offer online solutions that implement blockchain technology. The complicated technology behind Bitcoin, we are one of the only companies in Australia to offer the infrastructure solution to local businesses.

Don't find customers for your products, find products for your customers."

Seth Godin

As Blockchain is a more secure and incorruptible platform which establishes a decentralised database, it can be used for a variety of purposes. From security verification, to freight tracking and more simple money transfers, we are using blockchain technology to revolutionising data storage and verification across our client's industries.

With our team of specialists, we always deliver competitive and innovative solutions taking advantage of the newest and most reliable advances in technology. As a full-service agency, we offer a range of services. Our customised websites are fully optimised to take advantage of new technology like Blockchain, as well as focused on meeting business online conversion goals and ROI targets.

Our other new package delivers chatbot developments to our clients as a new solution to both app and online customer/company engagement. If you are looking for something new for your customers, chatbots might be the answer. An engaging and rewarding platform, we can now provide businesses with an affordable technique to grow their business's brand.

Our website developments and digital strategies are designed to deliver unprecedented value, fully optimised for Google crawls and structured to enable later SEO or online marketing for growth. As a leading SEO company in Melbourne, we understand what makes a website rank on Google, and other search engines. So, our clients are certain that any website we design and develop will be fully ready when they want to launch into online SEO marketing.

Our team contains a range of specialists who are experts on graphic design, information technology, data analysis and deliver advanced and innovative web developments. With a passion for learning new technology, all our clients receive the latest tactics and can be confident their site was created on the right platform for their needs. We also create innovative e-commerce online stores with experts on Shopify, Magento, Woo Commerce and customised WordPress platforms.
