

MB Financial Advisors AG pleased to announce that Extenua Security Products now Available for Enterprise Customers

ZURICH, SWITZERLAND, December 6, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Extenua Inc, a California, USA-based developer of enterprise cloud security software and investment capital partner of MB Financial Advisors AG, announced recently that its Cloud2Drive™ and award-winning SilverSHield™ products are available to enterprise customers, including users of Amazon AWS.

Cloud2Drive is a cloud-agnostic product compatible with any cloud service provider, and designed to provide enterprises a controlled, secure and easy access solution for their cloud data by delivering critical high-value features, including:

- Cloud2Drive allows users to see and use their cloud storage like it's a local hard disk drive, for quick learnability
Administrators can aggregate multiple cloud services in the back-end and present them as one virtual drive or many virtual drives to the user's device
- Cloud2Drive is 100% enterprise ready
- Cloud2Drive uses the most accurate artificial intelligence in order to predict what files a user will need
- Local encryption, independent of the cloud provider
- Cloud2Drive is very flexible and allows online access, anywhere, without the need for creating VPNs.

SilverSHield is a secure, fast and reliable Secure Shell (SSH-2) and Secure File Transfer Protocol (SFTP) server for the Windows' operating system. Customers purchasing SilverSHield Pro-XL through AWS Marketplace will get access to all of its benefits, including:

- PCI and HIPAA compliant file transfer solution
- Single button configuration for Cisco UC Platform secure backup to cloud
- Secure powerful SSH2 and SFTP Server that is easy to use
- PKI authentication with multiple keys per user
- Active Directory integration
- Advanced user and virtual folder security rules
- Manageable via GUI or command line interface
- Powerful fully featured scripts for events or build your own with the integrated scripting program.

Both products can be purchased today on Amazon AWS.
