Executive Auto Shippers Adds Auto Shipment Tracking

MONROE, IOWA, US, December 14, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- When you buy something online you expect to receive an email confirmation and tracking info. Thanks to Executive Auto Shippers you can now expect the same when you ship a car.

“We’ve always worked towards giving our customers the best service in the industry,” says Matt Van Gelder, CEO of EAS, “Being able to track their auto transport is one more way they can have peace of mind.”

The auto shipment tracking system EAS utilizes does not require any extra hardware. The system uses the carrier’s GPS signal on their cell phone to create a breadcrumb-type trail of locations of your vehicle as it travels on the carrier’s trailer from start to finish. The customer will receive periodic update emails that include a log and updated map throughout the duration of their auto shipment.
