

Visualz Wins 2016 Best New Product Award

Worship Facilities Magazine recognizes Department 60's cloud based digital signage service as best in category in "Other Media and Communications Products"

POMPANO BEACH, FL, USA, December 14, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Today, Department 60 (D60) announced that it has received a 2016 Best New Product Award from Worship Facilities Magazine. This year's winning entries were chosen by way of independent voting courtesy of a panel of 13 individuals, each of whom currently works in a tech leader role at a church, along with Worship Tech Director site editor Andres Caamano.

Products were individually judged on multiple criteria including innovation, functionality, cost-effectiveness, competitive advantages, benefits to the end user and benefits to the integrator.

"We are delighted to have been recognized for this award," commented Michael Brandofino, CEO, Department 60. "Successful communication is key to the success of any organization, but critical in the church community. Visualz enables Houses of Worship to deliver engaging, up to date content to their constituents without the need for investing in expensive hardware or software. Our monthly subscription model is the perfect solution for cost-conscious congregations, while the ease of use will ensure that there are minimal demands on the technical staff."

Visualz enables organizations of all sizes to deliver engaging and eye catching digital content to virtually any display without the need to buy expensive hardware and software, nor commit to hours of training and design expertise. The service is sold primarily through AV Integrators and Managed Service Providers.
