

World's first one-piece foldable phone display stand launched

A-iEasy, the innovate new smartphone display stand, is the hottest new Kickstarter tech, set to revolutionize smartphone use in an easy and elegant way.

VALENCIA, 46687 ALBALAT DE RIBERA, SPAIN, December 21, 2016 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Developers of the innovative A-iEasy phone display stand are looking for backers to help take it to market

The market for technology wearables is also experiencing rapid aligned growth and the innovative A-iEasy looks set to revolutionize hands-free phone usage. It is the first one-piece, foldable phone display stand, suitable for any smartphone on the market. Now, the team behind A-iEasy are looking to raise 15,000 EUROS to take it to market with early pledgers receiving a range of benefits that include a discounted first try of the new A-iEasy for just a 5 EURO pledge.

A spokesperson from the A-iEasy development said:

"The A-iEasy will help users to enjoy a closer relationship with their smartphone - allowing them to engage with it in a new way and carry out more functions simply, reliably and in style. This new gadget is extremely small and strong, yet light as a feather - and it will offer a new level of phone access and flexibility, whilst looking amazing."

The A-iEasy is tiny yet tremendously powerful. It has a deceptively simple 3 linkage design which snap locks and tightly secures to the phone, allowing you to position it hands-free in either portrait or landscape mode. You can then position your phone perfectly to play music, record video, FaceTime,
