

Capital Numbers Announces Its PayPal Record for 2016

Capital Numbers ended the year on a high note announcing its PayPal Record for 2016.

KOLKATA, WEST BENGAL, INDIA, January 9, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Capital Numbers, a leading provider of IT solution, consulting, and business process services, today announced its Paypal record for 2016. For the last five years, Capital Numbers has received positive reviews from their target users. Work ethics, dedication, and determination are the keys to making Capital Numbers one of the top outstanding destinations for leading IT companies around the world. Despite its success on every frontier, Capital Numbers has never compromised on those key aspects that have been essential to its overall success.

The rapid growth of a huge number of online e-wallet services around the world has made it remarkably easy for clients to track the online business operations of a company and their ethical policies. Presently, PayPal is one of the most convenient and, understandably, most-used e-wallets throughout the world. They are well equipped with devices to prevent user fraud and improve the member experience. If a user isn't satisfied with the order delivered the customer can file a complaint. Too many complaints from users against an organization put it at risk to be placed on the blacklist. Capital Numbers is delighted to have a wonderful rapport with their clients, serving them with the utmost professionalism and dedication.

Per PayPal's buyer protection policy, a customer can file a complaint against a company within 180 days from the day of purchase for its service. PayPal would run an investigation accordingly to find if there is any breach of the standard claim. If the order delivered does not match the description written by the seller, the buyer receives a full refund for the purchase made. Capital Numbers adheres to PayPal's exceptional buyer protection policy when it comes to service.

The following areas are considered before a seller or service would be placed on the blacklist. PayPal would analyze each area before taking any drastic steps. The areas include Buyer complaints, Disputes, PayPal inquiry, Spoof, Chargeback, and Bank Reversal.

The 2016 PayPal report on transactions with Capital Numbers via e-wallet are proof of its credibility in the industry. Figures listed show the percentage of actions reported or steps taken against Capital Numbers.

Refund: 1.04%
Buyer Complaints: 0.00%
Dispute: 0.42%
PayPal Inquiry: 0.00%

Other than a negligible percentage of refund and dispute, there are no issues with online transactions and payments made to Capital Numbers via PayPal. Five of the areas are at zero percent. These figures demonstrate the excellent company values that Capital Numbers practices and further show the level of transparency in its operations.
