PUNE, INDIA, January 11, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Global Security Testing Industry

Global Security Testing Market is accounted for $2.8 billion in 2015 and expected to grow at a CAGR of 19.9% to reach $9.98 billion by 2022. Factors such as need for protection against cyber security threats, increased need for Cloud based security solution and protection for Web & Mobile applications are driving the market growth. However, lack of domain related tools, more implementation cost for innovation & deployment affects the business and limited knowledge & skills about security testing domain will hamper market growth. Connected devices and BYOD trends will provide ample opportunity for the market growth.
