Mobile+Web Developer Conference returns to San Francisco

GSMI announces the return of the Mobile+Web Developer Conference.

SAN FRANCISCO, CA, UNITED STATES, January 11, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- San Francisco, CA, January 10th, 2017 — GSMI announces the return of the Mobile+Web Developer Conference, this March 1-3 for its 5th year, gathering a diverse mix of developers and designers across industries to present best practices across iOS, Android, IoT, web and cross-platform development.

#MWDCON is a three-day event dedicated to helping developers and software engineers build high-performing, powerful apps and websites, along with helping them develop the non-technical skills they need to accelerate their development career.

It's a must-attend for any developer looking to expand their skill set or explore new platforms through a unique mix of hands-on, technical training, case studies, and strategy talks.

The conference kicks off with a full day of pre-conference labs - 3-hour, activity-focused sessions that allow developers to collaborate with each other and workshop leaders to solve challenges in targeted areas of development and design.

Featured Speakers Include:
Clarissa Peterson, UX manager, ICE Health Systems
Samantha Quiñones, Principal Software Engineer, AOL, Inc.
Ben Ilegbodu, Frontend Platform Manager, Eventbrite
Safia Abdalla, Maintainer, nteract
Daniel Burke, Software Engineer, Yelp
