review firms are authentic and highly dependable as the process of evaluation that they adopt to handpick the top names from the industry is strict and refined. The searches they conduct are filtered based on a powerful portfolio, strong clientele, groundbreaking projects successfully delivered, compliance with time-frame, budget limits and client's requirements, customer-centric, seamless communication between developers and clients, client satisfaction, quality of projects, capability to shape up an idea, technology trends and certified expertise and experience.

All chosen companies score points on the mentioned disciplines and then a final list is prepared.

Konstant has passed out with an overall high score and thus, recognized as one of the most accountable offshore development companies of the year.

"It is an honor to see that Konstant has retained a top position against its competitors worldwide," said Vipin Jain, CEO and co-founder of Konstant Infosolutions. He further added, "We could not be happier than having a top ranking in our core services, especially when entering in the New Year 2017. We are committed, now more than ever, to keep helping startups, enterprises and SMBs with all the mobile and web solutions that will ultimately help them achieve a holistic business growth strategy."
