HISTORY OF BUSINESS

In 2008, Nichols started learning the mower business while earning a management and business degree at Mount Vernon Nazarene University. It started out as a hobby, but then his passion for the mower business grew.

In 2012, Nichols and his wife looked at the market and realized that there was not a low-priced leader in the used mower space. Most dealerships have high overhead costs, which are then passed on to you, the consumer, in the form of overpriced mowers, Nichols said. The couple started GSA Equipment to help homeowners and commercial lawn specialists get quality used equipment at prices you cannot find anywhere else.

"We sell and specialize in commercial zero turn mowers and walk behinds. We have a good selection of lawn and garden tractors as well," said Nichols. "We get a wide variety of equipment ranging in years, hours, sizes, and brands. We will continue to offer our products at reasonable prices, and we look forward to working with you."
