

Panel Discussion Topics Released for Pre- Filled Syringes East Coast 2017

Leading Boston PFS Summit returns with two panel discussions led by experts from Pfizer, Amgen, Nemera, Biogen, and Regeneron.

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS, UNITED STATES, February 9, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SMi Group's 4th Annual PFS East Coast Summit will arrive to Boston on April 26th and 27th. Highlights of this year's show will include informed guidance from both a pharmaceutical and industry perspective.

Conference attendees will also have the opportunity to have their questions answered by participating in two panel discussions led by PFS experts from Pfizer, Amgen, Nemera, Biogen, and Regeneron. The schedules and experts for the two panels are:

Day 1 Panel Discussion: Combination Products - Challenges & Opportunities

An in-depth discussion on combination products which will delve further into manufacturing, regulations and human factor studies.

...we should take this opportunity to learn, develop and improve our best practice and strategy for Pre-Filled Syringes”

Shire

Moderated by Michael Selzer, Manager Combination Products Engineering, Regeneron
Isabelle Delcroix, Business Development Manager, Nemera
Mike Price, Senior Engineer, Biogen

Day 2 Panel Discussion: The Future of Parenteral Drug Delivery

Attendees will discuss new windows of opportunity in injectable technology as well as best practice in switching to needle-free delivery systems. The debate will allow participants to share their experiences in overcoming industry obstacles and explore pens versus pumps.

Moderated by David Chen, Principle Scientist, Novel Drug Delivery Technologies, Pfizer
Sudeshna Dutta Ray, Senior Engineer - Advanced Device Technology, Amgen
