IT Governance founder and executive chairman Alan Calder wins Corporate Vision's European CEO of the Year award

ELY, CAMBRIDGESHIRE, UNITED KINGDOM, February 13, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- IT Governance, the leading provider of information security solutions and expertise, is delighted to announce that its founder and executive chairman, Alan Calder, has won the European CEO of the Year award.

Alan Calder is an acknowledged international cyber security expert, and a leading author on information security and IT governance issues. Drawing on his experience leading the world's first successful information security management system (ISMS) implementation, Alan Calder wrote the definitive compliance guide, IT Governance: An International Guide to Data Security and ISO27001/ISO27002.

Alan Calder said: "I'm delighted to receive the European CEO of the Year Award. We're determined to continue our work delivering a broad range of integrated, flexible and affordable solutions globally, while meeting the real-world needs of today's organisations, executives and practitioners.

"Looking forward, we aim to build on our sound client base by exceeding our clients' needs in an efficient manner. Although Brexit brings various challenges, we are dedicated to continuing to serve the fast-growing pan-EU business, along with continued expansion in the United Kingdom and the United States."

The Corporate Vision European CEO of the Year award acknowledges excellence in the corporate world, alongside tireless dedication, astute decision-making, and boundless knowledge of various industries, markets and clients to keep organisations moving forward.

According to Corporate Vision magazine, "creativity, innovation and passion for the product or service are the things that separate great companies from merely good ones and these awards celebrate the individuals who, through their commitment to these areas, are the driving force behind their firms' growth and prosperity."
