

ABBYY FineReader Professional available for online cloud access

AppOnFly is making the leading OCR software ABBYY FineReader Professional available for online cloud access - for Windows, Mac, iOS or Android.

PRAGUE, CZECH REPUBLIC, February 16, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- AppOnFly makes the OCR software ABBYY FineReader Professional accessible online through either the remote desktop protocol (RDS) or directly via browser access in the form of monthly subscription.

About ABBYY FineReader

ABBYY FineReader is an optical character recognition (OCR) software that provides unmatched text recognition accuracy and conversion capabilities, virtually eliminating retyping and reformatting of documents. Intuitive use and one-click automated tasks let you do more in fewer steps. Up to 190 languages are supported for text recognition — more than any other OCR software in this market. AppOnFly offers ABBYY FineReader Professional for a fraction of the price of the standalone application.

The online cloud access to ABBYY FineReader Professional through the AppOnFly subscription model has the following advantages:

Setup in seconds

No downloading. No installing. No waiting. ABBYY FineReader Professional is configured and ready to use.

A revolution in software distribution from cloud”

About AppOnFly:

ABBYY FineReader Professional from cloud

AppOnFly is bringing to the user Windows software from the cloud, faster and easier than ever before.

Our mission has always been to make Windows software more accessible for everyone. We believe that you should have the freedom and flexibility to pluck any Windows software the user needs from the cloud, whenever and wherever he or she needs it. Not only that, we don't believe that the user should be forced into long-term financial commitments. We reckon that pay-as-you-go is the way to go.

AppOnFly first had the idea to deliver apps from the cloud way back in 2005 (light years in tech years!) and have been perfecting the platform for doing this ever since. The AppOnFly platform is now capable of delivering an ever-increasing choice of professional Windows apps from the cloud, within just a few seconds.
