

KDG Helps Business Build Better Zoho Solutions

Offering both Zoho development and integration services, the tech leaders can help any business improve workflow, build client relationships, and grow.

ALLENTOWN, PENNSYLVANIA, UNITED STATES, February 21, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Whether a business wants to develop an app that will improve interactions with customers or integrate billing and contracting services with its existing Zoho CRM account, KDG's team of Zoho developers can help. One of the only tech firms in the nation offering 100% USA-based certified Zoho services, KDG has helped hundreds of businesses improve workflow, manage customer relations, and develop web-based solutions for increased growth and success.

Among the development services KDG offers are Zoho Creator, Zoho CRM, and Zoho Projects. Zoho Creator uses a drag and drop platform that makes it simpler for businesses to develop their own online applications, something that today's high-tech customers and clients are always seeking. Zoho Creator also lets users manage business with custom forms, reports, and automated workflows. Meanwhile, KDG's Zoho CRM developers give small businesses the power to automate emails, generate sales quotes, and funnel leads more efficiently, while Zoho Projects helps businesses more easily manage projects by tracking billable and nonbillable hours, creating tasks, and communicating with clients in chat forums. It's a system that works so well, even KDG uses it for their own projects.

“A lot of the development projects we take on can be completed in about 200 hours,” says KDG CEO

KDG has a team of certified developers ready to help build your Zoho solution.

Among the other development services the tech leaders offer are Zoho Reports, Zoho SalesIQ, and Zoho AppCreator, proving that no matter the need, from development to reporting to sales, KDG has the solution on hand, making

Kyle David. “Even though Zoho has made development considerably easier thanks to its drag and drop features, business owners, especially small business owners, may not have the time to devote to such projects. That’s why we’re here to help. We can handle the work while they get back to business.”

For companies with existing Zoho accounts, KDG also offers a variety of integration services. These tools and applications help businesses run smoother and make the most out of the power Zoho can offer. With billing services using Quickbooks, contracting integrations from Adobe Sign, and a variety of other programs that make communicating with clients via email, text messaging, and snail mail easier, KDG has an integration (or several) for any business.

“No matter the business’s need, our developers work hard to build the solution that helps them succeed,” continues David.
