

Smoking Tobacco in UK Market 2017 Consumption, Trend, Segmentation and Forecast to 2020

Smoking Tobacco in UK Market Consumption 2017 Forecast to 2022

PUNE, INDIA, February 23, 2017

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Summary

The British smoking tobacco market is large and forecast to grow in the long term as increasing tax rates and price rises will force consumers to switch from expensive manufactured cigarettes to cheaper rolling tobacco. However, the price differences between these tobacco products will decrease as the government introduces strict anti-tobacco retail laws in 2017 in which smoking tobacco product sizes will increase, causing prices to rise, and taxes will also be hiked to discourage consumption. In addition, the smoking tobacco market is plagued by a large non-duty paid sector with people smuggling products from EU countries to sell in the UK. For instance, non-duty paid smoking tobacco accounted for an estimated 4,900 tons in 2016 compared to 6,145 tons of legitimate sales.
