ORLANDO, FL, USA, February 28, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Worldwide Private Jet Charter Broker, GiveJet, LLC hires Technology Lead, Jacob Lux, to help grow and expand the Orlando based operations. When asked about his new role, Lux described, "the position is integral to the expansion plans of the company." Company Owner, Jeremy Levy, explained "among his chief duties, Jacob will be responsible for all IT related matters." He went on to say, "in addition to managing our servers, maintaining our online marketing accounts and building and expanding our website's messaging and capabilities, Jacob will begin managing the process of developing a new customized Client Management System (CMS)." GiveJet, LLC, which celebrates 10 years of operations this year, currently uses a custom system. "The system is in need of some upgrades", says Levy. The new CMS will handle the entire client management process to include storage of the contact database, lead management, trip contracts, quoting, scheduling and invoicing." Lux explained that "the current system offers good across-the-board capabilities, but doesn't allow for many of the value-added features that we want to offer our clients." They went on to summarize that the new system will allow them to better serve their clients and help differentiate the company from the competition.
