Credit Accelerator CEO Bernard Bonner Presents Oscar Winners, Nominees and Hollywood Influencers With A Priceless Boost for a Perfect Credit Score

BEVERLY HILLS, CA, UNITED STATES, March 3, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- When the official Oscars accountant, PricewaterhouseCoopers, can make a mistake at the 89th Annual Academy Awards on the biggest night for the movie industry, you can only imagine how many mistakes and errors you can discover on your credit report. Credit Accelerator launched a revolutionary software product that eliminates the human error. "Our powerful method has little room for error," said Credit Accelerator CEO Bernard Bonner. "The software will not allow negative information to fall through the cracks."

Credit Accelerator found the solution to help people get back on track and accelerate their lives. "We didn't hesitate to bring this software product to the exclusive gifting suites produced by GBK," said Bonner. "This is a easy, affordable solution for non-accountants, it is designed to keep you in production on set and in your personal life." Oscar winners and nominees, presenters, and Hollywood influencers gravitated towards the Credit Acceleration display to learn more about how they can maintain a lavish lifestyle, boost and maintain their credit score especially if their careers begin to slow down; the family is expanding with babies; children on their way to college; parents who need longtime care; or go through a catastrophic event.

"Good credit can take you far in life and starting early isn't a bad idea," said Bonner.

When the crowdfunding runs out or investors disappear, personal credit can suffer for many people in the exciting but volatile world of film making.”

When it takes 3 to 4 times the amount of a film budget in worldwide gross revenue to break even on a film, the entertainment community understands the importance of good credit, accuracy and proper oversight of budgets, forecasts, global box office and movie attendance trends. Warner Bros. reported that Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix had allegedly lost $167 million, despite $967 million in global revenues.

"Bottomline, to outsiders looking in, it appears that the money train is in the station and everyone is financially free to do whatever they want," said Bonner. The reality is the overhead costs, especially promotion and marketing can be as much as the production budget. "It's just not a sure thing to make a huge profit. When the crowdfunding runs out or investors disappear, personal credit can suffer for many people in the wonderful world of film making."

"We recruited a team of the best and the brightest experts in finance and credit to develop a software product that removes the bad and boosts the good accounts using an user friendly, self-guided approach," said Credit Accelerator CEO Bernard Bonner. "Credit Accelerator is guaranteed to position you to be and stay in the game."

"For decades, there have been credit repair and credit "fixing" companies, but they all charge ridiculous fees and produce shoddy results," said Bonner who is known as the 'Business Consultant to the Stars.' "Credit Accelerator is not only the most cost effective, but has been certified as the most effective way to boost your credit giving you financial freedom."

"Every step of the Credit Accelerated program is in full compliance with this law," said Bonner.

Under the FCRA, both the credit reporting company and the information provider (the person, company, or organization that provides information about to any one of the three national credit reporting companies - Experian, TransUnion, and Equifax) are responsible for correcting inaccurate or incomplete information in your report. This is one of several examples of how Credit Accelerator takes advantage of all your rights under this law.

If one factor changes, your score may change — but improvement generally depends on how that factor relates to others the system considers.
