Many backers made the campaign possible through generous donations and backing and we assure they will enjoy the amazing features of the Appy software.

"Locking in enough operating capital is critical. Businesses need funds to ramp up, and keep the doors open. The vast majority of start-ups never make it past their first year of business, which is bad news for everyone, from the investors to the customers who could have benefitted from whatever product the start-up was offering." said Appy CEO, Esteban Chaves.

The Appy is a Startup company in Delaware, we are committed to stirring a revolution in the business world with our dedicated team of expert software engineers. Once again we say thank you for supporting and backing our campaign.
