Eduonix Surpasses Initial Goal on Kickstarter

Eduonix introduces a press release on mobile development, where you can learn to develop apps for Android & iOS using the 5 best development frameworks

ORALANDO, FLORIDA, UNITED STATE OF AMERICA , March 9, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Eduonix's upcoming course on Mobile Development has successfully accomplished its initial goal ORLANDO, Florida – March 03, 2017 – Eduonix Learning Solutions, an online learning company, had introduced a Kickstarter campaign to raise funds for its upcoming new course on Mobile Development Frameworks.

Eduonix has not only managed to complete its initial goal, but it has also surpassed it with a good margin and still has 35 more days to go for the campaign. The company is still hoping to raise as much as it can to help complete its blanket goals.

Eduonix Co-founder and CEO, Sushant Das, adds, "We are so happy with the support we have received from the Kickstarter campaign. This success would not have been possible without our amazing backers, who have continued to support us and trust us, throughout our journey. We hope this love and admiration from our backers, our present and future students, will continue with our existing and upcoming projects."

The course is designed to help newbie and seasoned developers enter the market of web development. Since, the introduction of smartphones and mobile apps, the world has changed. Now, apps are the future and it requires new developers. This course is a great way to start learning web app development.

The tutorial has been touted as the perfect balance between theory and practical, with the instructor not only covering theories, but also a step-by-step breakdown of how to put the theory into practical use.

The students are expected to learn how to develop hybrid and native apps for Android and iOS, using 5 of the most popular frameworks currently on the market by actually building 25 different apps, 5 with each framework.

The five frameworks include: PhoneGap/Cordova, Ionic/Ionic 2, jQuery Mobile, React Native and Meteor.

This Kickstarter campaign is still running and for anyone that has not yet had the chance to check it
