Market Dynamics

This market is driven by added emphasis on data and technology advancement. However, high costs, the requirement of a new team for analytics, and lack of awareness about the effectiveness of analytics in sports in developing countries may act as roadblocks to the market.

Market Segmentation

The sports analytics market is segmented on the basis of application (data analysis, player evaluation, video analysis, team performance analysis, health assessment, business management etc.), deployment (cloud and on-premise), and type of sport (basketball, football, cricket, baseball, tennis, hockey etc.).

North America occupies the largest consumer base in the world, followed by Europe. There are immense potential and opportunities in the Asia-Pacific region as the acceptance rate of analytics in sports have been increasing and due to the rapid growth of emerging technologies.
