London, United Kingdom; March 20, 2017 -- Walter Schindler and SAIL Capital Partners LLC have been honored and each has received an Elite Award from Wealth & Finance International of London as "Most Innovative Venture Capitalist 2017."

Walter will be speaking at the Yale University Private Equity and Venture Capital Symposium at the Yale School of Management on March 31.

Nathan Angell of Wealth & Finance International stated: "These awards highlight the game changing methods and stunning results achieved by the truly top performing businesses, individuals and departments on today's fund landscape, and our expert teams have worked tirelessly throughout the process to ensure that only the most deserving receive one of our prestigious awards."

Mia Broadbent, Media Executive of Wealth & Finance International emphasized: "Our Elite Awards are run on strictly a merit basis, and are assessed by our in house research team here at the magazine. "

Long-standing SAIL Capital investor Jim Weber reflected: "Over the years I have watched as Walter was an early thought leader and pioneer, usually the first, in almost every major move of energy and water technology innovation, including energy storage, energy efficiency, water recycling and water purification, clean power, and the application of aerospace technology to energy and power challenges across the total spectrum." Mr. Weber is the Founder and CEO of Wyvern Technologies Inc., a developer of advanced technologies for the aerospace and defense markets.

SAIL Capital Founder Walter Schindler added: "We are proud to report that our water technology company WaterHealth International Inc. has posted its first calendar year of positive EBITDA performance on rising revenues. WaterHealth is the world's leading provider of pure drinking water to rural villages, reaching over 7 million people every day.

"We want to acknowledge with our gratitude the investment capital and dedicated support over many years of our key co-investors Dow Chemical, Coca-Cola, the International Finance Corporation (IFC), Tata Power, Vital Capital and Acumen Fund. Together we have proven that profitable sustainable capitalism can be achieved."

SAIL Capital Partners LLC is a leading US pioneer of sustainable investment in energy and water technology companies.
