

Unique Opportunity to Enrich the Sound of Your Cellphone by SonicCloud and Entheos Partnership

DELRAY BEACH, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, March 22, 2017

/EINPresswire.com/ -- "It frees you up, it takes the stress out of trying to simply figure out what is being said." It's a problem SonicCloud's Larry Guterman and many others face when on a cell phone, difficulty hearing.

Guterman is a Hollywood director who was a part of the DreamWorks team for the film Antz. He also directed stars such as Jeff Goldblum and Elizabeth Perkins in Cats & Dogs which earned more than $200 million.

Guterman is partnering with Hearing Partners of South Florida and Entheos Audiology Cooperative to offer access to this revolutionary technology. This is a unique opportunity is happening in only a few select areas to begin.

SonicCloud is about connecting people with people. While new forms of communication are increasingly being innovated and adopted, voice-to-voice connection will always be the most human and meaningful exchange. SonicCloud's mission is to advance human communication through personalization advances in audio signal processing and sonic clarity.

SonicCloud can be tuned to different voices and can be customized for a variety of noisy situations so you can stop thinking about trying to hear. "You can start thinking about the content of what is being said."

This special program is not only to provide powerful enhancement for the hearing impaired, including those with mild, moderate or severe to profound hearing, but anyone who uses a cell phone and has difficulty hearing. SonicCloud is working with select focus groups allowing them to customize their phones to enrich the sound of conversations.

Hearing Partners of South Florida is a dedicated team of audiologists headed up by Dr. Nimet Adam. Dr. Adam is a Board Certified Clinical Audiologist with over 20 years of experience. She is also on the board of Entheos Audiology Cooperative, a national group that provides hearing healthcare services worldwide including mission work to developing nations such as Haiti, Guatemala, Jordan and Zambia.

Entheos Audiology Cooperative is made up of a group of audiologists nationwide that serve their local communities, helping people realize their potential together. Entheos also includes several non-profits to help meet these goals which include community service and international mission trips.
